CASH FOR GOOD GRADES & ATTENDANCE

It's time once again to submit for your Cash for Good Grades and Attendance. Be sure to be present and do your best!

PLAN FOR SUN!

Summer is coming! Be sure to plan to participate in all the exciting benefits provided by TAF and TAC. Don't forget the Annual Picnic on June 22.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT/CEO

Winter is now behind us and spring is finally here. At the Aleut Corporation, that means we just held our Operational Plan and Budget Review Meeting with the Board of Directors in March. During this planning meeting, each of our seven subsidiaries presented information to the Board including their revenue, operating income, and growth strategies. Our subsidiaries worked hard to achieve goals set for FY19, which ended on March 31, 2019. We are on target to meet the Board of Directors' financial goal of $350M in revenue and $25M in profit by 2022. The audited financial information for FY19 will be in the Annual Report provided to all shareholders at the end of August or beginning of September 2019. I am very proud of the work our subsidiaries do each day, so we can meet the Board's goals and the Aleut Corporation's mission of maximizing dividends and opportunities for you, our shareholders.

TAC Board and staff recently held a Shareholder Informational Meeting in the Seattle area which was attended by over 230 shareholders, guests, and descendants. These meetings give us the opportunity to review and reflect on the previous year's financial performance with our shareholders. One of my favorite aspects of the shareholder meetings is the sense of community that occurs when shareholders gather together to learn more about TAC's business operations as they enjoy meeting with old friends, sharing food and stories, and winning some TAC swag. I look forward to connecting with shareholders and descendants throughout this year through TAC Talks, Village Visits, and our Annual Meeting of Shareholders held in October.

This year the Board of Directors declared an $8.00 per share dividend payable in July 2019. The Board also declared a $1000 Elder Distribution to be paid this coming October to all voting shareholders 60 years and older as of March 31, 2019. Cumulative dividends declared since incorporation to date is roughly $50.2M. So, a shareholder with 100 shares from inception to date would have received $129.60 per share for a total of $12,960 in regular dividends.

In closing, I would like to extend a sincere congratulations to our shareholders and descendants who are graduating from high school, college and graduate school this year. I am very proud of your accomplishments and wish you well in your future endeavors.

I hope everyone has a productive, safe and enjoyable summer!

Warmest Regards,

Thomas Mack

CHAIR REPORT

Aang Shareholders:

It's the time of year to dive into planning the upcoming fiscal year. Our management and staff worked hard this last month to present the Operational Plan and Budget Review to the Board of Directors. The highlights of the board meeting are included within this newsletter.

The Board enjoyed visiting with shareholders at the Seattle Shareholder Meeting. It is always wonderful to see family and friends at this special gathering. Like our annual meeting, the shareholder meeting in Seattle is one of the most attended gatherings for our shareholders. We were pleased to see so many families registering their descendants with the Corporation. Registering your descendants makes them eligible for youth incentives, such as Cash for Good Grades and Attendance and the Youth Advance Scholarship. Registered descendants will also receive electronic mailings that may include opportunities available for our descendants. Thank you to all that attended.

One of the more important decisions of any board of directors is the hiring of the President/CEO. I am happy to report to shareholders that the board is continuing our relationship with Mr. Thomas Mack as President/CEO of the Aleut Corporation for another three years. Congratulations Thomas to another three years of leading our management team. Another important item of note at this past meeting was the Board approval of our annual budget. The Board also reviewed the subsidiaries' operational plans and budgets. This year the Board also made important contributions to the Aleutian Pribilof Islands Association's (APIA) Aleut Language Preservation Program and the Museum of the Aleutians. Watch future newsletters for details on these important items.

Your Board of Directors is looking forward to a productive year. The Aleut team is focused and determined to reach our financial goals. On behalf of your Board of Directors, I would like to wish you all a wonderful spring.

Sincerely,

Sharon Lind

NEW MANAGEMENT TEAM MEMBERS

GEORGE POLLOCK

President, Aleut Enterprise, LLC

George Pollock is a long-time Alaskan who first arrived in Anchorage in 1993. He has worked throughout Alaska, the lower 48 states and internationally on remote, logistically challenging environmental and oil & gas projects. George recently signed on as the President of Aleut Enterprise, LLC (AE) in January of 2019. Before joining AE, he was the General Manager for an independent oil and gas producer operating in the Cook Inlet. George is excited about joining the Aleut team.

DONNIE SIEWELL

General Manager, C&H and Aleut Testing

Donnie Siewell is our new General Manager for C&H and Aleut Testing in California and North Dakota. He has been in the oil and gas industry for almost 39 years and has been in the testing business for 28 of those years. Donnie previously worked for C&H from 2000 until 2010 and he is glad to be back. Donnie was raised in Oregon and moved to California after getting married. He and his wife have been married 39 years. They have four grown children and seven grandchildren with one on the way.

SHAREHOLDER SPOTLIGHT: DENIS O'HEARN

OCCUPATION:

Dean, College of Liberal Arts, University of Texas El Paso (UTEP)

LINEAGE:

Grandmother, Mary Louise Sorokina, and great-grandmother, Evdokiia Aleksandrovna Semenova on his father's side are from Unalaska.

Almost a year into his new position as Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas El Paso (UTEP), Denis O'Hearn is truly enjoying himself. "I had no designs on being in college administration when I started my academic career," the Doctor of Sociology says, chuckling. "I'm probably a community activist first and a scholar second, and being at UTEP, I get to tap into both of those passions." O'Hearn's Aunt Mary, who was born in Unalaska, and his father were Aleut shareholders since incorporation in 1972. His grandmother, Mary Louise Sorokina, and great-grandmother Evdokiia Aleksandrovna Semenova, were also from Unalaska. While he hasn't been able to visit Alaska yet, Dr. O'Hearn says doing so is a goal of his. "Oh, we would love to visit, and really get the chance to share in the culture and what Aleut life is like," he said enthusiastically. "When we were children, we always knew we were Alaska Native on my father's mother's side. When ANCSA was enacted in 1972, my father and Aunt Mary registered as shareholders, and from then on, we were much more aware and interested."

EARLY YEARS

Dr. O'Hearn was originally born in Carlsbad, New Mexico – just a few hour drive from UTEP – to parents of Irish and Aleut descent. His father James worked in the potash mines, and later, in radio and for the local newspaper. "My father didn't graduate from high school, but he was the most widely-read person I knew," O'Hearn recalls. "He was a voracious reader, and tremendously knowledgeable. He really gave my brothers and I a love for learning and reading, which became a big part of our lives."

The doctor and his two brothers are first-generation college graduates, and he says the inspiration and push from their father was a big part in their success through higher education. In reality, it was almost a forgone conclusion that the boys would attend college: they were very well aware of the impacts of college graduation on social mobility and opportunity – and had parents who were invested in and supportive of their ultimate success.

After earning his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of New Mexico in 1975, Dr. O'Hearn went on to earn Master's Degrees in Economics, Russian & Eastern European Studies, and Sociology from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. He earned his doctorate in sociology also from UMich in 1988.

FINDING HIS PASSION

O'Hearn's work and life experiences have taken him across the globe. He spent nearly 20 years in Belfast, Ireland as a professor, lecturer, and community activist, a time period of intense experiences. During the 1970s and 1980s, complicated political and historical issues culminated in a series of prisoner hunger strikes that resulted in 10 deaths.

"Living through those strikes in the early 80s was an incredibly difficult and heartbreaking experience," Dr. O'Hearn recalls. "While some of my later research focused on prisons and the communities they contain, I wasn't able to work on that during that time. I returned to UMich to get my Sociology Doctorate, and then, once the peace process happened, went back to Ireland and started in on the prison research that I had found so fascinating." Since then, he's done significant research into the impacts of extended solitary confinement on incarcerated individuals.

ARRIVING AT UTEP

Dr. O'Hearn has an incredible resume and personal history: he's a Fulbright Scholar and held academic positions at Binghamton University, the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and the University of Notre Dame, as well as institutions in Japan, Portugal, Ireland, and Turkey. He's proud of his Aleut and Irish heritage, and dedicated to working for what he calls a "model" public university.

"UTEP leads the country in admissions of low-income and first-generation students," he explains. "When they graduate, those students are able to access social mobility and improve their lives. That's something I find very exciting because it helps develop communities and make them stronger. The university is dedicated to that mission, and that's frankly what brought me back here."

In their spare time, Dr. O'Hearn and his wife Bilge, who holds a doctorate in anthropology from Binghamton, love to travel. "One of the big advantages of being in academia is the ability to travel and do research all over the world," Dr. O'Hearn said. "While we don't get to travel as much now, El Paso and Juarez [Mexico] are just incredibly diverse and interesting places. There's a new streetcar here that's modeled after one that used to exist years ago, and you can take it from El Paso to the bridge on the border, and just walk into Juarez." They also do a lot of DIY home improvement projects, and hope to soon build a structure in the lot by their house where they can enjoy watching the sun set on the U.S.-Mexico border.

THE ALEUT FOUNDATION UPDATE

By: Cynthia Lind, Executive Director

TAF Scholarship Recipient Kallin Spiller, TAF Executive Director Cynthia Lind, and former TAF Scholarship Recipient Stephanie Myer

TAF Scholarship Recipient Jillian Bjornstad & TAF Program Coordinator Naomi Philemonof

Aang! Spring is officially here! We had a great winter but now it's time to greet spring and start gearing up for the summer programs here at the Foundation.

We would like to thank The Aleut Corporation for providing $1.5M to the Foundation for this upcoming fiscal year!

The Aleut Foundation has been busy participating in events around the Anchorage area. TAF recently participated in the South Anchorage High School Indian Education Program Scholarship Foundation Luncheon. The purpose of this event was to give high school seniors the opportunity to become better acquainted with their Alaska Native Corporations and explore opportunities to support their educational and career goals.

At the beginning of March, TAF participated in the 2019 Alaska Native and Rural Student Internship and Scholarship Fair at the University of Alaska Fairbanks. Naomi enjoyed meeting current and future TAF recipients. Thank you to Jillian Bjornstad, Rachel Lekanoff, Svetlana Landt-Ortega, and others who stopped by our table! The UAF RSS holds this fair each year and hopefully next year we will have high school students who live in area participate so they can learn about our programs.

TAF also participated in the Alaska Native Heritage Center's first college career fair for students across Alaska and the Anchorage School District. This was held the day before the ASAA State Basketball Tournament.

TAF Program Coordinator Naomi Philemonof and TAC Shareholder Development Coordinator Diana Mack participated in the Alaska Commission on Postsecondary Education's college & career panel for the Kids2College program – a partnership activity with the University of Alaska College Savings Plan. The 5-person career panel held a video-conference with the Sand Point 6th grade students to help inspire our young Unangax with their own college and career experience.

TAF Development Director Luke Stowe and I traveled to Seattle in the middle of March to provide a presentation on TAF programs at The Aleut Corporation Shareholder Informational Meeting. It was great to visit with our shareholders and descendants as well as meet future scholarship recipients. We were able to answer questions regarding future scholarships in addition to questions about the culture programs held in Anchorage and throughout the Aleut region. The Culture Camp Travel Scholarship is for students to attend culture camps so they can learn more about their culture and heritage from their elders. Participants learn Aleut history, language, dances, arts and crafts. It is a wonderful way to preserve and carry on our Aleut heritage, culture, and traditions. Congratulations to Stephanie Myer who won the TAF door prize drawing – a night stay at the Fairmont Hotel where our meetings were held. Also, congratulations to Margaret Wisbey, who won the Foundation's Split-the-Pot.

The Aleut Foundation is on Facebook! We hope you will like and share. Our goal is to provide meaningful information on educational and cultural opportunities for our Unangax. This is a great way to connect with those in our network and support "Growing our Own!"

Dear Aleut Foundation,
I am a lifelong Alaskan and Aleut, raised in Nelson Lagoon and Sand Point. I moved to Anchorage to pursue college and The Aleut Foundation's support was instrumental in making it possible. I graduated with a Bachelor's in Accounting from the University of Alaska Anchorage in December 2018, thanks in large part to funding from The Aleut Foundation. I'm very grateful for the support I've received and I'm glad resources like this exist for Alaskans pursuing higher education.

Sincerely, Martin Gundersen

Congratulations Martin Gundersen!
We are proud of your achievements!

REGISTER YOUR DESCENDANTS

Who are descendants? Children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews of original shareholders. Our eldest descendants are now 46 years old. They can register as a descendant if they are not yet a shareholder. Their children can register as a descendant.

Why register? Descendants are eligible for scholarships, youth incentives and electronic mailings from The Aleut Corporation. Their information will be available when inheriting or receiving gifted shares.

If you are not a shareholder, but your child wants to put his or her grades in for the Cash for Good Grades and Attendance cash drawings, you'll need to register yourself and your child.

All it takes is a descendant registration form and a copy of your birth certificate. You can find those forms at <https://www.aleutcorp.com/shareholders/shareholder-department/forms/>
