ANNUAL MEETING DATE CHANGE Page 5

The date of the 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders has been changed to November 12. See inside for more information.

VILLAGE VISITS RETURN! Page 2

After a nearly two-year hiatus, we're thrilled to be back in our region conducting village visits! See where we've been so far, and where we're headed in August.

SHAREHOLDER CORNER Page 10

We have launched our TAC Talent Bank, as well as registries for Unangaġ artists and businesses. Get the details in the Shareholder Corner.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Aang Unanga Family,

It was so good to be back in our region visiting with shareholders and descendants.

A few weeks ago, The Aleut

Corporation staff and a small film crew landed in Unalaska, where we kicked off our first leg of a multi-day tour, visiting Unalaska, Nikolski, and Akutan. Unfortunately, we were not able to stop in Atka due to weather.

On my first morning in Unalaska, the Museum of the Aleutians Executive Director Virginia Hatfield gave us a behind-the-scenes tour. I was stunned to see an exhibit on hunting spears, featuring work and quotes from my grandfather William Tcheripanoff. You can see the care and attention that goes into each exhibit.

Afterwards, I had the chance to sit down with the Ounalashka Corporation (OC) and their Board of Directors to discuss how TAC and OC can better partner for the future. Then, we visited the Qawalangin Tribe before our shareholder meeting. Turnout for the meeting was great, with well over 50 shareholders and descendants in attendance.

The next day, we landed in Nikolski. What an amazing community on the edge of stunning Umnak Island! We met with our shareholders and descendants in the community center and visited the APICDA lodge, the church, and an incredible community greenhouse. Unfortunately, weather prevented us from staying the night and our time was cut short. The community of Nikolski was a very gracious and wonderful host.

My mother, Sarah Tcheripanoff Virg-In, joined us in Akutan, the town where she grew up. I met family for the first time and hugged others I hadn't seen since I was a kid. Akutan welcomed us with a community potluck after our shareholder meeting. The food was fantastic! We were privileged to spend the day with Josephine Shangin, President of the Akutan Corporation, while she taught kids how to braid seal intestine. And with Hugh Pelkey, a talented Unangan artist, who shared with us the skills he learned under my grandfather.

We have an important update to announce regarding our 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders. On the recommendation of TAC Management, the Board of Directors has voted to move this year's meeting from October 15 to November 12, 2022. This change is due to Aleut Federal's portion of the annual audit taking longer than anticipated.

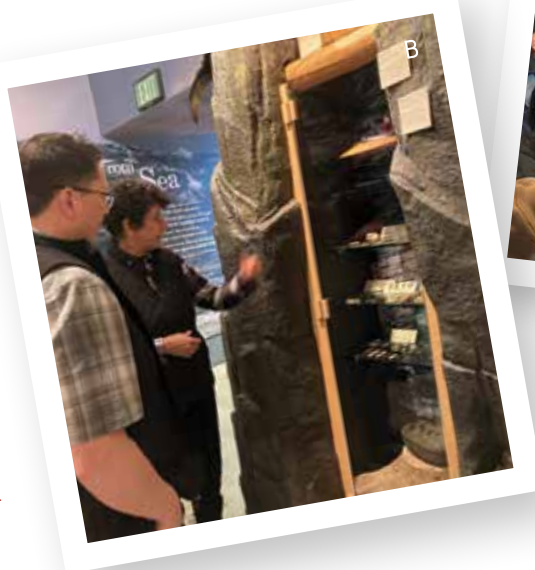

Aleut Federal is our largest subsidiary with approximately 800 employees. Focused primarily on government contracting, they are responsible for 80% of our revenue and operating income. This past year has been one of stabilization for Aleut Federal. In response to their financial challenges in Fiscal Year 21, the Board moved quickly to bring in new TAC leadership, oversee the restructuring of Aleut Federal's operations, support the implementation of a new financial management system, and hire new auditors. These changes were necessary last year to secure Aleut Federal's foundation for growth.

I cannot say enough how grateful and honored I am to be able to serve you and I am truly sorry for any impact this date change may have on your travel plans. We look forward to seeing you either for an upcoming community visit in August, or on November 12 for the 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders. Keep an eye on your inbox and our social media channels for more information in the coming weeks.

Skoey Vergen

BOARD CHAIR REPORT

Dear Shareholders & Descendants,

This summer has already been an incredibly busy time. We are so grateful for the gifts and resources nature provides during these long, sun-filled days.

We had over 400 people attend the Annual Aleut Picnic! Thank you to The Aleut Foundation for putting on this event and to all our volunteers who made it happen.

The Aleut Corporation has recently relaunched our TAC Talent Bank. This will be a valuable tool for our shareholders and descendants who are starting their careers or looking for a change. This will also inform The Aleut Corporation about the fields and industries our shareholders and descendants are pursuing, so TAC can tailor internship and career opportunities to better serve our shareholders.

In order for the Talent Bank to be effective, we need your participation. TAC is hosting a Talent Bank Giveaway. Enter by completing your profile. Even if you have done it in the past, log back in and update your information. $100 to one lucky winner will be announced August 31. Instructions on how to access and update your Talent Bank profile via the Shareholder Portal is on page 11 of this newsletter.

As Skoey's letter mentions, we have a significant change regarding the 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders. On the recommendation of Skoey and the TAC Management Team, the Board of Directors voted to postpone the date of our Annual Meeting this year – from October 15 to November 12. The Board agrees with TAC management that taking additional time to be accurate and thorough with the audit is the right course of action. I'd like to reassure our shareholders that while Aleut Federal continues to stabilize, our underlying business is sound.

The Board recognizes that this date change will impact you, and we apologize for any inconvenience or complications this may cause to your travel plans.

We will be increasing our Early-Bird prizes for online and mail-in voting. TAC staff is in the process of revising dates and deadlines for proxy submission. New dates will be communicated in the coming weeks via email and social media.

On behalf of your entire Board of Directors, we wish you a safe and fruitful summer! We appreciate your patience and cooperation during this time, and we look forward to seeing you at the 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders on November 12.

Sincerely,

Jenifer Nelson
Chairman of the Board

IN-REGION COMMUNITY VISITS

The first leg of our in-region travel was a huge success! It was great seeing our shareholders and being back in-region. We are happy to share a few highlights from our visit.

Annual Meeting

DATE CHANGE

TAC's Board of Directors has voted to move the 50th Annual Meeting of Shareholders from October 15, 2022, to November 12, 2022, to provide additional time for TAC Management to complete the annual audit. We apologize for any inconvenience or disruption this may cause to your travel plans.

As a result of this change of date, we are revising dates and deadlines for proxy submission and early-bird prizes. Shareholders can also expect their Annual Report and Proxy Packet to arrive in the mail by mid-October at the earliest.

Please watch our social media channels and your inbox for additional updates, information, and finalized dates and deadlines in the coming weeks.

Despite this change, we are excited to be back in person for our Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

All shareholders and descendants are welcome and encouraged to join us to learn more about TAC's updates and goals for the future and elect Directors to The Aleut Corporation's Board.

How fitting that it is also our 50th Annual Meeting. Fifty years of The Aleut Corporation is a momentous feat, and we are excited to see what the next 50 years has in store for our shareholders and descendants! We can't wait to see you. But don't worry; if you're not able to make it, we will still offer a live-streaming option.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ELECTRONIC SUBMISSION OF PROXY

Due to expected production delays with the Annual Reports and voting packets, we strongly encourage all shareholders to vote online this year. TAC will be taking extra steps to ensure you know how and when to vote online.

Please ensure your email address on file with TAC is accurate and up-to-date, as Shareholder PINs and IDs may be distributed via email when the election packet is live.

Included are instructions on how to access and vote online. Use this guide as a resource.

From any computer, connect to the internet and go to www.aleutvote.com.

Enter your shareholder ID number, PIN number, and the last four digits of your social security number to open your proxy form.

FIGURE 2

Carefully read the instructions and then mark how you want your votes cast among the Board candidates.

FIGURE 3

Enter your email address for a confirmation that you submitted your proxy through the internet.

Click "Vote" and exit the system.

If you would like to change your proxy (written or electronically) at a later date, you can do so by following the same methods as described above. The electronic system will also let you know how you previously indicated your votes should be cast.

If you have any questions about the internet proxy that are not answered here or on the online links, please contact the election judge, Sramek Hightower at (907) 677-3320.

Welcome to TAC's Web Proxy System! The shareholder ID and PIN necessary to login were mailed to you in your proxy packet. If you have misplaced your ID and PIN please contact the Ballot Tabulator, Sramek Hightower at chebi@sh-cpa.com or 907-677-3320.

VIETNAM VETERAN LAND ALLOTMENT

In 1971, the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) repealed the Alaska Native Allotment Act, which allowed eligible Alaska Natives to apply for land allotments. Alaska Natives who served in the military during the Vietnamera may have missed their opportunity to apply. In 2019, The Department of Interior (DOI) reopened this program and extended the deadline to apply until 2025.

The Alaska Native Veteran Land Allotment Program is open to all eligible Alaska Natives who served in the military between Aug. 5, 1964, and Dec. 31, 1971. If eligible, Alaska Native veterans may select up to 160 acres of federal land.

Recently, the DOI announced it is releasing an additional 27 million acres of federal land from which eligible Alaska Native Vietnam Veterans may select allotments. The new land descriptions and maps are expected to be published late September or October 2022.

Below are resources and guides to help our eligible shareholders act on this opportunity.

SUBSIDIARY UPDATE: ALEUT FEDERAL WINS SPACE FORCE CONTRACT

Aleut Aerospace Engineering (AAE), based in Colorado Springs and a subsidiary of Aleut Federal, LLC, has been awarded a $10.9 million contract to continue its training efforts on behalf of the U.S. Space Force (USSF) 319th Combat Training Squadron and 533rd Training Squadron at Peterson Space Force Base.

While AAE was the incumbent, they had to compete against other qualified firms for the privilege of expanding upon our existing work in what is known as a "recompete." AAE's proven track record of consistency, exceeding customer expectations, and unparalleled customer service secured the win.

When COVID-19 shut down government offices, AAE reimagined productivity to ensure that all work was timely and efficiently completed. AAE's dedication resulted in the introduction of three new Spacepower discipline courses, including education covering orbital mechanics, radio frequency fundamentals, sensor management, and radar fundamentals. Despite challenges presented by the pandemic, AAE placed more than 400 new space operators in the field – receiving high accolades for USSF generals.

Going forward, AAE will continue to perform training services in support of tactical, operational, strategic, joint, and coalition space operations at both Peterson Space Force Base in Colorado and Vandenberg Space Force Base in California. Its goal is to shift the model from traditional computer-based training to true collegiate-level, student-centric, engaging online curriculum.

"We are very excited to continue our collaboration with the U.S. Space Force," said AAE General Manager Geoff Vaughan. "Aleut Aerospace Engineering and Aleut Federal's reputation for excellence will continue to expand the opportunities we can provide to shareholders of The Aleut Corporation, creating a lasting legacy."

CALLING ALL ARTISTS & BUSINESS OWNERS!

The Aleut Corporation is developing an Unangaġ Artist Registry and Business Registry to promote Unangaġ artists and business owners.

The Artist and Business Registries are a great way to proudly showcase Unangaġ heritage and artwork along with our hardworking small business owners.

The registries will be accessible on TAC's website. We will spotlight and promote artists and businesses on social media channels and newsletters. We are also working to provide opportunities for local artists to sell their work throughout the year.

More information will be provided via TAC's social media and newsletters.

HISTORIC MOMENT

Margaret M. Berntsen (1934-2020) was a shareholder born in Nelson Lagoon, AK. She was a proud Unanga꥕ business owner, fisherwoman, restaurant owner, AIDS Foundation advocate, cook, teacher, and much more. Below, is a great poem about King Cove, her second home, that she wrote for the May 2008 Aleutian Current!

FOND MEMORIES

By Margaret Berntsen Wisbey

The sound of the sea
As it crashes free
Takes me to the days gone by
I've missed the waves
As they whisper brave
And the wind piles the white caps high
The curve of the COVE
Mt. Dutton above
The shore birds so wild and free
Nothing can compare
With the safe harbor we share
And listen to the wind and the sea
King Cove is a place
That God in His Grace
Saw fit for all those who would care
Many Aleuts & other nationalities came
And we can all lay claim
To this beautiful cove we all share
Though some of us leave
You can all believe
Our roots are silent and deep
We are never away
How can we stray
We return to King Cove in our sleep

SHAREHOLDER ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

KDA꥕ BY ROSE

For King Cove's Rose Pletnikoff, her jewelry side business is a labor of love. At Kda꥕ by Rose, she sells custom-designed earrings that are inspired by the bentwood visor she created at culture camp.

"It's a very unique design," she said of the visor. "I incorporate fish-skin leather and beads into my pieces. I've tried hard to make my art meaningful and connected to our people and culture, and using that unique design is just one of the ways I'm able to do that."

Rose said her jewelry design and enjoyment of other art comes from her Unanga꥕ culture and growing up in King Cove. She started oil painting when she was in high school, taking cues from Bob Ross on television and using her dad's old paint supplies. Her grandmother taught her how to sew, and even helped her make her first quilt. It's a skill that has stayed with her over the years – since that quilt, she's always had a sewing machine.

During quarantine, Rose took up oil painting again and also started sewing masks. At the time, she was living in Kodiak, and the island community faced a major mask shortage.

"It was great to help people out in that way," she said, reflecting on the months in 2020 spent making countless cloth masks during the COVID-19 pandemic. "I started sewing headbands after making the masks, and even dabbled in beadwork, which is how I came to start creating earrings."

Rose credits a couple of artist friends who saw her beadwork with giving her the idea for her business. They encouraged her to keep practicing her beadwork and suggested she consider selling it. Her business took flight from there.

Art is nothing without inspiration, and Rose draws her inspiration from her culture.

"Right before the pandemic started, I was working at the Alutiig Museum in Kodiak, and seeing all of the cultural artifacts and fabrics and designs and history up close and personal every day was incredible," she recalled. "I really believe it's important to get our Unanga꥕ culture and heritage out there for people to see and understand. That representation really matters, and I'm glad I can contribute to it."

In addition to growing up in King Cove and going to culture camps, Rose has also been a part of the Aleut Dancers group that has performed multiple times at AFN. All of that cultural connection has been deeply meaningful, helping inform her identity and art, and the continuing evolution of both.

"My art and earring designs are a real outlet for me – it's personally fulfilling and satisfying to do something like this," she said. "I hope my artwork serves as an inspiration for other up-and-coming artists to get creative, and take up healthy activities!"

TAF UPDATE

Aang Aang!

The weather here in Anchorage has been amazing. This summer is full of celebration for our graduates, the return of our picnic, and the return of our culture camps. We are proud of our students that graduated from school this last semester and we hope they are all enjoying their summer and getting ready for new opportunities.

For summer 2022, we provided funding for our shareholders and descendants to participate in different events. We have several students traveling for culture camps to and from the region. We have seven descendants from the region participating in the Middle School Academy for ANSEP. In June, The Aleut Foundation helped support the Unanga dancers go to Juneau for Celebration 2022. We also financially supported the culture camps in our region and here in Anchorage.

For our high school students in our region, we will be supporting up to six students to participate in the Voyage school phases in the 2022-2023 school year. The phases are typically a two-week intensive course providing classes in culinary arts, emergency medicine, driver's ed, etc. Once we have more information on their phases, we will be posting that on our Facebook page.

AFN and The Aleut Corporation Annual Meeting of Shareholders are scheduled to happen this year. We will be providing travel scholarships for our shareholders and descendants to attend. Get your applications in by August 31. We are looking forward to seeing you at those meetings!

The Aleut Foundation is devoted to supporting our Aleut people. We have programs that we will be rolling out over the course of this year to further support our students and families. We invite you to call if you have any questions about our programs. We love talking with new students and their families to help them navigate our opportunities.

IT WAS GREAT TO SEE EVERYONE AT THE ALEUT PICNIC!

We are thankful we were finally able to gather after a two-year hiatus. The participants of APIA's Culture Camp demonstrated what they learned the previous week, sharing an Unangam Tunuu lesson as well as several beautiful dances. Thank you to all our volunteers, vendors, and The Aleut Corporation for making this all possible!
